

DESIGNER SPOTLIGHT

Kristen Johnson Perrin OF Perrin Projects

Kristen Johnson Perrin, Owner and Design Director of Houston, Texas-based Perrin Projects, describes her design style as joyful, warm, layered and full of color. Focusing mostly on workplace projects with hospitality, retail and residential sprinkled in, it's no surprise KnollTextiles fabrics are frequently spotted in her designs.

Q What design trends will always be in style?

A Listening to your client. Layering rich color and texture. Incorporating classics. And finally, focusing on timeless, not trendy.

Q What's your go-to source for design inspiration?

A So many! Houston art museums and galleries like the Menil, the Kinder Building at MFAH, Dimmit Contemporary Art and Barbara Davis Gallery. Fashion designers such as Elsa Schiaparelli, Diana Vreeland, Grace Coddington, Oscar de la Renta, Marc Jacobs and Ann Mashburn. And lastly, the music of The Rolling Stones, Al Green, The Black Keys and the list goes on.

Q What do you love most about KnollTextiles fabrics?

A There is a KnollTextiles fabric for every client... the one where money is no object and the one where budget is paramount; the one who's concerned about durability and the one who puts aesthetics first. I can find a textile for every project within every parameter—and they're always beautiful and with impeccable quality.
